STATE OF INNOVATION CHALLENGE—Help Your Students Help Our State

Join the State of Innovation Challenge (coming November 2020)

In Fall 2020, the State of WA wants to know – Can your students help our state? Sign up here!

Join middle school, high school, and Open Doors classrooms; along with student and community organizations from across Washington State in tackling some of the state's toughest challenges. Starting in November, we will ask students to help the state solve problems like...

- How can we find a better way to get food from farms to homes and food banks in need?
- How can we keep teenagers mentally healthy while social distancing?
- How could our urban centers foster community connections while keeping residents virus-free?

The State of Innovation Challenge aims to connect the content teachers are already teaching in class to the problems students see all around them, and encourages students to use their imaginations and skills to create their own solutions.

Sign up to learn more about the State of Innovation Challenge and how your students can be involved, and please forward this email to educators, nonprofits, and employers throughout our state who may be interested in participating.
