RESTAURANT ETIQUETTE

Essential Rules of the Table

Be Polite

Say "please" and "thank you" to servers and staff.

Respect personal space

Don't crowd other diners or tables.

Wait to be Seated

Don't rush to grab a table unless it's self-seating.

Clean up after yourself

Don't leave a mess, even if there's a cleaning staff.

Chew with your mouth closed

No one wants to see or hear your food.

Be Mindful of your Noise Level

There are other people around who are not a part of our organization. Keep your voice at a normal volume.

If you're able to, tip well!

If service is good, 15-20% is standard.

Don't snap at servers

Get their attention politely with eye contact or a small wave.

Show respect,
stay professional,
and represent
Washington FBLA
well!

WHY TIP?

Tipping is part of the cost of dining out. Most servers earn minimum wage and rely on tips as their primary form of compensation. In some states, restaurant tips aren't a bonus; they're how your server gets paid.

General rule of thumb:

If you can afford to eat out, you should budget to tip at least 15–20%.

- Sit-Down Restaurant
    - 15% (okay service)
    - 18%–20% (good service).
  - Buffet
    - $1–$2 per person.
  - Fast Food
    - 10%–15%
  - Cafés & Coffee Shops
    - 10%–15%
  - Food Delivery → consider the effort your delivery person is putting in to make your life convenient & comfortable
    - 10%–15% (minimum $3–$5).

Tell your server at the START of your meal that you intend on splitting the bill!

OTHER TIPS

- ✓ If splitting the bill, agree on tipping before paying.
- ✓ Many restaurants automatically add a tip for large groups (6+ people).
- ✓ Cash tips are best—servers get them right away!
